

Program Notes - "Zammit Two"

January 3, 1971

Performed by Kurt Munkacsi, Steve Blucher, and Grindl, accompanied by electric bass, guitar, sine wave generator, and imaginary bubble-blowing machine.

This piece, as performed, will be in three sections. The first section will be a statement and initial development of theme, as initiated by two fixed sine and square waves.

The second section will be a further development of the above, using as its basis the first section played backwards.

The third section will be a reprise and summation of the first two, as interpreted by the tape recorder and mixers.

Any of the above may be modified by equipment failure, audience reaction or non reaction, and the general state of the universe at the time of the performance.
